Vista Solutions Group Announces Senior Management Changes

Cedar Park, TX, December 6, 2011—Vista Solutions Group, a globally recognized document management solutions provider headquartered in the Austin, TX area, is excited to announce recent changes as the new year approaches. The company continues to strive and move forward to fulfill its mission of constant innovation, superb customer service and an unparalleled dedication to its customers.

Eric Rouse, initially hired to lead the Vista development team, has been named Chief Information Officer for the company and will be reporting to the CEO. Eric's robust IT experience, coupled with a strong leadership and client-driven focus proves he is best-suited to lead corporate information technology initiatives.

The company also welcomes Michael J. Hundley as Chief Executive Officer who will report to the owners of the company. Vista team members are excited to move forward guided by Michael's experience, enthusiasm and vision. In a letter to Vista customers, Hundley states, "I am proud to have been selected and lead as the Chief Executive Officer for this wonderful company and its people for this next and its most exciting phase." Addressing customer concerns, he recently stated, "Let me reassure you (Vista Clients) that our priorities are that of our customers, affiliates and associates. Any misalignments to that end will be resolved."

Bill Boyington, son of the company founders, Jim and Mimi Boyington, has returned to Vista to help with the transition of Michael and Eric. Prepared to use his industry knowledge and project management experience, Bill will assist and contribute to management responsibilities.

With a steadfast sense of direction, Vista Solutions Group aims to provide its customers with a better, more positive, overall experience from product definition and selection throughout the length of the partnership.
